Andrew is a partner in the Trial Section and represents a wide variety of clients in a multitude of commercial disputes. Andrew's practice focuses on corporate and limited liability company disputes, real estate disputes, insurance coverage and recovery, and intellectual property. He has extensive deposition, mediation, and trial experience and has tried dozens of jury trials, court trials, and arbitrations in various jurisdictions throughout Colorado. Although based in Colorado, Andrew has represented clients throughout the United States, including New York, Texas, and Pennsylvania, among others.

Andrew has represented clients in state and federal courts, arbitrations, and bankruptcy adversary proceedings. An experienced trial attorney, Andrew represented a national property developer in a dispute with another property developer in a multi-million dollar real estate deal. After a five-day court trial, Andrew's client won specific performance of a contract for the sale of a valuable piece of real estate. He also represented an international automotive and trucking company in multiple lawsuits arising from a complex embezzlement scheme. The scheme resulted in two federal lawsuits, a state court lawsuit, and a bankruptcy adversary proceeding, in which Andrew helped the client recover millions of dollars from various defendants. Andrew also has experience in trademark disputes and litigation, including claims under the Uniform Trade Secrets Act and the Lanham Act.

Before joining Moye White, Andrew defended insurance companies and their policyholders from a varied array of claims. He now draws upon his extensive knowledge of the insurance industry to help corporate policyholders understand
